

Mike Triantos

Chief Client Officer

Mike Triantos joined TriNet in 1999 and currently serves as Chief Client Officer. In this role, Triantos plays an integral role in developing and executing the company's strategy as well as leading its sales, human capital consulting, and account service teams. He is responsible for year-over-year sales growth as well as customer satisfaction and retention.

Prior to TriNet, Triantos served as regional sales manager at Maxim Group, an IT staffing and consulting company and division of Allegis Group, a multi-billion dollar staffing and consulting company based in Hanover, Maryland. In that role, Triantos was instrumental in deploying IT solutions (web applications, e-commerce, and call center technologies) to Fortune 500 and start-up technology companies. Previous to that, Triantos held various sales management positions at Gincig & Associates, a financial services firm based in Southern California.

Triantos received his bachelor's degree from the University of California, Berkeley.
